

Why HostingPro?

What would happen to your business if you lost all your parent and child information, details of when payments have been made and what is outstanding? It would be very difficult to get your business back up and running quickly without significant revenue loss.

This is where HostingPro can help your business. We provide access to a secure data centre enabling your business information to be protected in the event of theft, interrupted power supply, user error, virus activity, fire or damage to your centre.

Data is backed up automatically to a remote data centre, meaning that in the case of emergency you can get backed-up files and get back to business. This process happens automatically too, so it is not reliant on your staff remembering to copy files, ensuring that files are backed up every day.
